Funky Club Song:

I used to play a yellow banjo,
and rest it on my knee.
But all the strings are broken now,
it's know your moose to me.

I took it to the menders shop,
to see what he could do.
He said the strings are broken now,
It's no your moose to you.

With broken heart I took it home,
and laid it down to rest.
But when I took it out again
it played its very best.

Love and big pink kisses,

The committee.
